Cornell Scott

The Community Health Network of Connecticut Foundation, Inc. in 2009 renamed its annual golf classic after Cornell Scott, a founding member of its Foundation and also a longtime board member.

Mr. Scott joined the Hill Health Center at its inception in 1968 as its Director of Training and Education. In 1972, he was appointed its Executive Director. He maintained that position until his passing.

Mr. Scott died on Aug. 25, 2008 after a long illness. He was 73 years old.

Mr. Scott's 40-year tenure at the Hill Health Center was marked by a steady development of services, sites and programs aimed at the New Haven area's low-income population. He earned a national reputation for his work with the National Association of Community Health Centers, Inc. Mr. Scott was president of the Association in the 1980s when the country's health center program faced extinction in the U.S. Congress. His work is attributed with helping to preserve national funding, which led to the growth of community health centers across the nation.

To honor Mr. Scott's legacy, the Hill Health Center was renamed the Cornell Scott-Hill Health Center in 2009.

Laurie Perez

Emmy award-winning reporter Laurie Perez joined the FOXCT News Team in 2000. A native of South Windsor, she's thrilled to be working in Connecticut covering stories that affect the communities and people she loves.

Prior to Fox 61, Laurie worked as a reporter at WSPA-TV, the CBS affiliate in Greenville, South Carolina. While there, she covered the search for Olympic bombing suspect Eric Robert Rudolph, and reported for the CBS Network and CBS Evening News on the August '99 shooting spree in Atlanta's financial district, tornadoes in the South, and numerous other national stories. Her first job was reporting at the CBS affiliate KEPR-TV in Kennewick, Washington.

Laurie has a master's degree in journalism from Northwestern University in Chicago. She earned her undergraduate degree at Tufts University and is a graduate of the Loomis Chaffee School.

Laurie is a member of the National Association of Hispanic Journalists.

In Washington, South Carolina and here in Connecticut, Laurie has been honored for her writing and interviewing. She has been nominated the past two years in a row for the Emmy for Best Overall Reporter in New England.

Laurie is the host of Fox 61's weekly politics and current affairs show "The Real Story."

Community Health Network of Connecticut Foundation Mini Grants

The Foundation's Mini Grant Initiative was established in 2004 to support community health centers and other organizations that advance the mission of the Foundation.

Proceeds from the 2009 Cornell Scott Memorial Golf Classic were used to fund the following mini grants and community donations:

Mini Grants:

Charter Oak Health Center - $3,500

Charter Oak Health Center will use its $3,500 grant to develop and produce informational brochures, postcards and magnetized business cards in English, Spanish and Bosnian, all of which will detail its many locations and array of services available. This will allow the health center to expand its reach into the community while increasing access to care. These materials will primarily be used by Charter Oak's Outreach Team in its promotional activities, in which it targets current and prospective patients. This mini grant will specifically fund the graphic design, professional production and printing of these items.

Cornell Scott-Hill Health Corporation - $3,500

Cornell Scott-Hill Health Corporation will use its $3,500 grant to support its health education and health promotion efforts. Hypertension is one of the top reasons patients visit the health center while obesity, diet, and lack of exercise are significant contributors to these conditions. Therefore, this funding will be used to purchase educational materials focusing on hypertension, obesity, exercise, and diet and nutrition. A portion of the grant will be used to purchase a television and DVD player so the health center could play health education and exercise videos for its patients. It also plans to purchase exercise equipment, including therabands, balance balls and stair steps, which will be used in conjunction with the purchased exercise videos.

Fair Haven Community Health Center - $3,500

Fair Haven Community Health Center will use its $3,500 grant to improve hearing screenings for its younger patients. The monies will be used to replace its audiometer machine so it can offer in-house, non-invasive hearing tests. This machine will be adapted for younger children so that they can point to various pictures depending on what they hear. A portion of the grant will also be used to purchase a laptop and supplies for the room that will accommodate its new hearing equipment. As the health center moves toward entering clinical and screening information online at the time of a visit (for the eventual transition to an EMR and a paperless environment), it has deemed it necessary to have laptops available for its staff.

Optimus Health Care, Inc. - $3,500

Optimus Health Care, Inc will use its $3,500 grant to contract with a certified consultant, who will help it develop and implement a staff training program that will focus on using team work in the provision of medical care. The training program will target medical receptionists, medical assistants, nursing staff and medical providers. A minimum of 50 staff persons will complete four hour education modules on team work. The tailored training program will then be implemented as a pilot at our two health center sites that use Open Access scheduling. The benefits and outcomes of implementing an interactive training program on team work will be the reduction in employee turnover; less duplication of work and rework; improved morale; greater efficiencies in processes; and less miscommunication among staff. More importantly, this training will help us create a more productive and positive culture. To evaluate the training program, a pre- and post test will be implemented with staff. Optimus will work collaboratively with the Southwestern Connecticut Area Health Education Center to identify a competent consultant, develop the learning objectives for the training curriculum and to evaluate the educational modules.

StayWell Health Center - $3,500

StayWell's community programs and pediatric departments offer the opportunity for isolated families to experience a positive activity with their children at a location that would otherwise be out of their reach. This occurred only with the Foundation's financial support. With this $3,500 grant, StayWell and CHNCT celebrate the fifth consecutive year of this successful endeavor. Many of the health center's high risk families do not have the opportunity to enjoy a special day with their children. During this experience, participants learn how to encourage creativity, realize the fun of learning, develop social skills, learn stress relief techniques, all while keeping a connection with the medical home as a resource for child development concerns and parenting guidance. A portion of the grant will also be used to fund an 11-week, curriculum-based prenatal group. The goal of this group is to help reduce preterm birth and low birth weight babies. The sessions include education on smoking cessation, nutrition, bonding with baby, handling stress, labor and delivery, breastfeeding and early infant care. The program provides a strong foundation for women and their partners who may have multiple risk factors as they enter into parenthood. The early education is also intended to reduce poor birth outcomes.

Generations Family Health Center - $3,380

Generations will use its $3,380 grant to hire a graphic design consultant to write, design and take photos of the health center for its program brochures. The brochures will be distributed to referral sources, funders, donors, patients and community partners. Generations expects to utilize these new marketing tools to educate these individuals about the many services it provides and its locations.

Southwest Community Health Center, Inc. - $3,200

Southwest recently opened its fifth health center site at 968 Fairfield Ave, Bridgeport. This new site is the organization's new primary care headquarters. Southwest has also recently begun provision of services at five school-based health centers. Children in these school-based sites have access to medical, dental and behavioral health services upon enrollment. As it continues to expand its capacity to provide medical, dental and behavioral health services to the people residing in the Greater Bridgeport area, the emphasis will be to broaden its marketing strategies to reach more potential patients in the community. A portion of the grant will be used to for its behavioral health department to purchase laptops, which will assist the staff as they strive to provide comprehensive counseling services to children and adolescents at its School Based Health Center sites.

Community Donations of $250:

Master's Manna, Inc.

Master's Manna, Inc. is a food pantry program serving the greater Wallingford area. This donation will provide general operating support to continue to serve the basic needs of the community through the food pantry, free medical clinic, soup kitchen, clothes closet and a diaper bank.

Families Network of Western CT, Inc.

Families Network of Western CT, Inc. strives to lower the risk of child abuse and neglect by empowering parents through education and support services. Its mission is to give children a safe and healthy start. Programs include parent mentoring, nurturing parenting groups, home visitation, and infant injury prevention.

The New London Community Meal Center Inc.

The New London Community Meal Center was established in 1985 in the New London area. It was created to respond to the needs of New London's most vulnerable residents by providing nutritious meals in a kind, hospitable and clean environment. The organization currently provides lunch five days a week and dinner six days a week, including Saturday dinner served by a downtown New London church. The New London Community Meal Center served 73,518 meals to 35,000 in one fiscal year.
